

Pat Holmes is a Registered nurse specializing in Emergency Care for the last 18 years. She has been actively employed at Providence Emergency Department in Everett since moving to Camano Island in 2009. In 2014 She began monitoring and photographing some of the eagles at Camano Island State Park and Cama Beach for the sheer pleasure of improving photography skills and learning specifically about the eagles. That began a whole new passion for sharing stories and photographs of our local eagles with visitors to the parks as well as various organizations in Island and Snohomish Counties.
